

What is the Common Application and should I use it?

The Common Application is an online college application that can be submitted to more than 390 colleges and universities in place of the school's individual application. It is a standard college application used for undergraduate admission primarily at 4-year colleges and universities. Think of the Common Application as a one-stop online application that will allow you to apply to many of the schools on your list with minimal time and effort.
